"Reminiscences of the Passion Play" was the subject of an interesting talk given by Mrs. W. A. Bowen at the vesper services held at the Young Woman's Christian Association Homestead yesterday afternoon.

Her talk was illustrated with photographic reproductions. Following this the members discussed the scripture passage for the afternoon, which was "A Christmas Story."

Not only eating away the public right of way along the sea beach but encroaching on private property a sluggish, insidious undercurrent has been working along Waikiki Beach the last three years, until the right of way in front of the Seaside Hotel is now under two feet of water. This despite the fact that retaining walls and jetties have been built there to check its progress. At the same time this peculiar current has been piling up sand along the shore before Fort De Russy and the former Hau Tree.

CROWDS PRESS TO SEE JORDAN WINDOW DISPLAY

That the Christmas display of Jordan & Company is one of the largest and most attractive in the city, may be judged to a large extent by the throng of shoppers lining the front of the spacious show windows and eventually passing into the store. Almost anything that one could think of to give as an acceptable Christmas gift may be seen on display, and every article shown is a model in its kind, of the latest mainland style.

The large makai window has been given over to a varied assortment of women's apparel, and also many other articles which make excellent Christmas remembrances. Silk hose and scarfs form a prominent part of the display, while there are also gloves, both in leather and silk, leather and beaded hand bags, all of which are the latest design, combs and hair ornaments, laces, handkerchiefs, vanity sets, and a score of other articles too numerous to mention.

At the entrance of the store are two glass show cabinets, one containing something new in hats for young ladies and girls, from the late corduroy variety to the bath towel style. These may be seen in different shades. This cabinet also contains unique designs in small handbags in different colors of leather, which are so popular on the mainland at this time. The second cabinet contains a variety of handbags in gold, silver and nickel mesh, and also many with bead designs.

The makai window has been transformed into a veritable maze of articles of the kind that are eagerly sought by the Christmas shopper, both for men and women, and one has a large field to choose from. There

BUSINESS ITEMS

In the weekly summary of transactions of the stock exchange on Saturday, 25 shares of Waialua at 90 were accidentally omitted. The total in the introduction included this item.

Bradstreet's for December 7 says that holiday distribution of trade probably exceeds that of any previous season, particularly at centers that have been favored by influences resulting from bounteous crops.

It has been published in Tacoma that 50,000 tickets have been sold to passengers of southern Europe for passage by way of the Panama Canal to Pacific Coast ports, the steamship companies selling the tickets on the installment plan, for $33 a head. It is believed that immigrants could be brought to Hawaii from Europe by the canal route at $60 a head, or a saving of from $20 to $30 over the Cape Horn route.

"Considering the fact that America is using three and a half times as much rubber as England, three times as much as Germany and five times as much as France, there is hardly any reason why crude rubber should be shipped to any port in any of those countries to be reshipped from that point to this great center of consumption," says the India Rubber World. "Moreover, the present outlook is that America's proportionate consumption of rubber will still further increase. The automobile manufacturers are planning a production of 60,000 cars for 1913, which, with the cars which will be in use from the production of earlier years, will make a total number certainly in excess of $1,000,000, and it is a conservative estimate to place the necessary tire production for 1913 at 5,000,000 tires. There seems to be no good reason, therefore, why the present indirect and wasteful shipment of plantation rubber to New York should be continued. Direct shipments mean expedition and economy, and they would enable American manufacturers to get what the plantation ships them."

BAND TO GIVE DANCE

The Hawaiian Band organization will give a dance tomorrow evening at the K. of P. Hall at 7:30 o'clock, for the benefit of the organization's burial fund. The fund was depleted recently, following the death of A. E. Fallett. Music will be furnished by the Kawaiiani Glee Club. Ticket, 50 cents, now on sale by agents, and can be bought at the door.

are things for the men in the way of umbrellas, military brush sets, travel mirrors with brush and cup, rubberettes with ash tray, collar boxes, and other novelties in leather. For the ladies there are dresser sets, manicure sets, hand bags in leather, picture frames, sewing sets, rans, parasols and others. Jordan's is a mecca for the Christmas shoppers, and has been doing a rushing business since the opening of the holiday season.
